

The UHS designs and builds customized cooling systems with heat recovery.

Such systems can also be transported fully assembled.

To determine an efficient use of energy, it can be installed if requested an energy analysis unit.

